To compute the raw score, add up the scores of all sub-test items administered. Record the raw score on the inside of the test booklet. Next, look up the scaled score for each subtest in the manual's charts organized by age and raw score. Add up the sum of the scaled scores (Core Language, Receptive Language, Expressive Language) and record it on the front cover of the test booklet. To determine corresponding standard scores, confidence intervals, and percentile ranks, refer to Appendix D in the manual. The assessment also calculates core language scores, norm-referenced indices, criterion-referenced scores, and provides templates for creating parent reports, interpretive summaries, and graphical reports. Additionally, clinicians can create customized lists of therapy activities, classroom interventions, and recommendations. There are no basal guidelines; however, ceiling guidelines vary depending on the specific subtest. For Ages 5-8, ceiling guidelines are as follows: Concepts & Following Directions - 7 consecutive scores of zero, Expressive Vocabulary & Word Structure - 7 consecutive scores of zero, Formulating Sentences & Recalling Sentences - 5 consecutive scores of zero. For Recalling Sentences, Word Class (receptive), Formulating Sentences, Sentence Repetition - 5 consecutive scores of zero. For Ages 9-21, ceiling guidelines are as follows: Concepts & Following Directions - 7 consecutive scores of zero, Understanding Spoken Paragraphs - don't stop, administer all, Number Repetition - score 0 on parts a & b of an item (reference picture), Familiar Sequences - 4 consecutive scores of zero.
